10. Reviewers Comments:

- ☐ The article has a reasonable gap regarding research as they study a developing IT hub (Chennai), the IT industry, and how culture and organizational design may affect the impact of surveillance and performance.
- ☐ Its strong point is the research methodology that entails a mixed methodology, i.e., survey research analysis of 300 IT employees along with objective measures, i.e., performance indicators collected, are reviewed through monitored systems.
- ☐ The findings of the paper are subtle and useful to the management since they show that although moderate surveillance can enhance the accomplishment of tasks and
